Blamed on al-Qaeda

The September 11 attacks, often referred to as 9/11, were a series of four coordinated attacks – ascribed to the Wahhabi Islamist group Al-Qaeda – against the United States on the morning of Tuesday 11 September 2001.

9/11, in addition to being a unique, highly coordinated and meticulously planned act of aggression, constituted a media event on a scale not seen since the advent of civilian global satellite links, round-the-clock television news organisations and the instant worldwide reaction and debate made possible by the Internet. As a result, most of the events listed in the 9/11 timeline below were known by a large portion of the planet's population as they occurred.

The single most important event in promoting the "war on terror" narrative was undoubtedly 9/11. As Naomi Klein points out in her Shock Doctrine, this renders people particularly susceptible to 'programming', which took the form (and indeed, still takes the form) of stock repetition of images and phrases, such as the linking of Al-Qaeda to acts and images of "terrorism".

The Telegraph's reporting from October 1, 2001 did not question Tony Blair's claim to have seen "absolutely powerful incontrovertible evidence" that Osama bin Laden was responsible for 9/11. Instead, it echoed his assertion that "the fight against terrorism needs to be a global one. Only a true coalition of the civilised world offers a real chance of cutting out the cancer of mass terrorism."^[1]

Not at all convinced by the 9-11/Official narrative, the former President of Italy, Francesco Cossiga, boldly asserted in 2007:

"All the democratic circles in America and Europe, in particular the Italian intelligence agency, know very well that the catastrophic attack was planned and carried out by the American CIA and Mossad, with the help of the Zionist world, to accuse the Arab countries and to persuade the Western powers to go into Iraq and Afghanistan."^[2]

The blue touchpaper for the 9/11 attacks was ignited with the arrival at 04:42 a.m. (EDT) of this BBC News report <http://news.bbc.co.uk/1/hi/1536773.stm> which featured the Scottish Mirror front page headlined "LOCKERBIE: THE LOST EVIDENCE" and was the prearranged signal for the CIA – Mossad – Zionist attacks to proceed.^[3]

"Terrorism" comes to America

Until Tuesday 11 September 2001, the world had recognised the bombing of Pan Am Flight 103 at Lockerbie in Scotland on 21 December 1988 as the worst "terrorist" attack against the USA: of its 270 fatalities, 189 were American.

On 11 September 2001, important Lockerbie evidence that had been suppressed for over twelve years, finally entered the public domain.

That evidence by security guard Ray Manly concerned a break-in at Heathrow airport hours before Pan Am Flight 103 took off and exploded over Lockerbie:

"A terrorist who wanted to put a bomb on that plane would have gained access to the perfect place. The luggage would not be checked again before being loaded on the plane. Although police took a statement, I never heard from anyone afterwards."^[4]

Ray Manly, who died in 2010, was described by Adam Larson's Lockerbie Divide website as the epic whistleblower whose actions dredged up perhaps the key piece to the puzzle of the 1988 Lockerbie bombing:

"The same clue had been erased from the record early on by authorities, and kept from the world for over a decade. That long silence ended for good with his clue's first publication in the news, nearly eight months after Abdelbaset al-Megrahi's conviction for his plot on Malta.

"This came on Tuesday, 11 September 2001, and it was obviously superseded by events overseas. A new record was set that day - by a landslide - for American civilians killed in a terrorist attack (2,977). But the explosive power of Manly's revelation to understanding the previous record-holder, also involving an airliner, was not diminished.

"Patrolling Heathrow's terminal three shortly after midnight on 21 December 1988, he had discovered a padlock that had been cut on a certain door called T3/2A. This had left open the way to the usually-secured airside area, where luggage is loaded onto airliners. He dutifully reported this to his superiors, but apparently nothing further was done, and about 17 hours later, Pan Am 103 was loaded with a bomb at terminal three.

"Somehow the fact of this breach never emerged during the investigation, as attention turned first to Germany, and then to Malta. For years it remained unknown, up to and even at the Lockerbie bombing trial in 2000. There, Megrahi's defence tried to argue for a bomb introduction at Heathrow, based on other compelling evidence. But they were as clueless as anyone that there was also a reported break-in at the airport, almost a smoking gun in that context.

"Manly says the memory remained with and 'weighed' on him over the years, and when it still hadn't come up as of the wrongful verdict at the end of January 2001, he contacted al-Megrahi's defence team and, later, the media."^[5]

Prelude

11 September 2001 - Front Page News

Abdelbaset al-Megrahi's appeal against his Pan Am Flight 103 conviction was scheduled to be heard at Camp Zeist in the Netherlands in January 2002. Armed with Ray Manly's Heathrow break-in evidence, the Libyan's conviction would undoubtedly be overturned. More importantly, Libya would be exonerated from the crime of Lockerbie and the UN sanctions imposed a decade earlier would have to be lifted.^[6] Faced with this dreadful prospect, the UK/US authorities had to do something dramatic, even world-shaking, to ensure the innocent "Lockerbie bomber" remained convicted. The eventual 9/11 highly coordinated and meticulously planned act of aggression would have been hatched in March or April 2001 soon after Ray Manly told the Scottish authorities he intended to testify on Megrahi's behalf.

Suddenly, on 11 September 2001, the Heathrow break-in evidence made front page news in a Scottish Mirror exclusive ("Lockerbie: The Lost Evidence"). Other newspapers also carried the story on 11 September 2001 including The Independent.^[7] A BBC News report "Key Lockerbie 'evidence' not used" published at 08:42 a.m. (GMT) on Tuesday 11 September 2001 was broadcast worldwide. According to former British diplomat Patrick Haseldine, it was this BBC News report about the suppressed Lockerbie evidence that ignited the 9/11 attacks – see 9/11 timeline (below).^[8]

Which raises the question: "Was the CIA complicit in both the Lockerbie and 9/11 attacks?" An answer can be found at the Epilogue below.

9/11 timeline

All times are given in Eastern Daylight Time (EDT) which is Greenwich Mean Time (GMT) minus 04:00 hours.

05:00: 9/11 conspirators receive their BBC News daily email (09:00 a.m. GMT edition) containing BBC News article "Key Lockerbie 'evidence' not used" (published at 04:42 a.m.) which is believed to be the prearranged signal for the highly coordinated and meticulously planned act of aggression to proceed.

06:00: Mohammed Atta travels on Colgan Air Flight 5930 from Portland International Jetport in Portland, Maine to Logan International Airport in Boston, Massachusetts along with Abdulaziz al-Omari.^[9]

06:45: Atta and al-Omari arrive at Logan International Airport.

06:52: Marwan al-Shehhi calls Atta from another terminal at Logan to confirm that the plans for the attack are set.

Flight 11 hijacked

07:35: Atta and al-Omari board American Airlines Flight 11.^[10]

07:40: The rest of the Flight 11 hijackers board the aircraft.

07:59: Flight 11, a Boeing 767 carrying 81 passengers and 11 crew members, departs 14 minutes late from Logan International Airport in Boston, its destination being Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) in Los Angeles,

California.^[11]

08:13: Flight 11 has its last routine communication with the Federal Aviation Administration's (FAA's) Boston Air Route Traffic Control Center.^[12]

08:14: Flight 11 is hijacked when hijackers Waleed and Wail al-Shehri rise from seats 2A and 2B and stab two flight attendants. Atta rises from seat 8D and approaches the cockpit. Within minutes, he is at the controls.

08:19: Betty Ong, a flight attendant on Flight 11 alerts American Airlines via an airphone:

“The cockpit is not answering, somebody’s stabbed in business class — and I think there’s Mace spray — that we can’t breathe — I don’t know, I think we’re getting hijacked.”

08:26:30: Flight 11 makes a 100-degree turn to the south heading toward New York City.^[13]

08:37:52: Boston Center control notifies NEADS of the hijacking of Flight 11, the first notification received by NORAD that Flight 11 had been hijacked. The controller requests military help to intercept the jetliner.

Flight 175 hijacked

08:14: United Airlines Flight 175, another fully fuelled Boeing 767, carrying 56 passengers and nine crew members, also departs from Logan International Airport in Boston; its destination was also Los Angeles International Airport. Five hijackers are aboard. One of them communicated with Mohammed Atta shortly before American Airlines Flight 11's takeoff.

08:37: Flight 175 confirms sighting of hijacked Flight 11 to flight controllers, 10 miles (16 km) to its south.

08:42–08:46: Flight 175 is hijacked.

WTC 1 hit

08:48–10:28: At least 100 people (some accounts say as many as 250), primarily in the North Tower, trapped by fire and smoke in the upper floors, jump to their deaths. One person at street level, firefighter Daniel Suhr, is hit by a jumper and dies.^[14] No form of airborne evacuation is attempted as smoke is too dense for a successful landing on the roof of either tower and New York City lacked helicopters equipped for horizontal rescue.

Flight 77 hijacked

08:20: American Airlines Flight 77, a Boeing 757 with 58 passengers and six crew members, departs from Washington Dulles International Airport in Virginia for Los Angeles International Airport. Five hijackers are aboard.

08:50–08:54: Flight 77 is hijacked.

WTC 2 hit

08:55: An announcement is made over the building-wide PA system by officials in the still-undamaged South Tower of the World Trade Center, "The building is secure, please return to your desks."^[15] This announcement is reacted to in numerous ways, ranging from people going back to their offices as suggested, ignoring it and evacuating anyway, or congregating in common areas such as the 78th floor sky lobby.

09:03:02: Flight 175 crashes at about 590 mph (950 km/h, 264 m/s or 513 knots) into the south face of the South Tower (2 WTC) of the World Trade Center, between floors 77 and 85.^[16]

Flight 93 hijacked

08:42: United Airlines Flight 93, a Boeing 757, takes off with 37 passengers and seven crew members from Newark International Airport (now Newark Liberty International Airport), bound for San Francisco International Airport, following a 40-minute delay due to congested runways. Four hijackers are aboard. Its flight path initially takes it close to the World Trade Center, which is 3 minutes away from being struck, before moving away westwards.

Pentagon hit

09:37:46: Flight 77 crashes into the western side of the Pentagon and starts a violent fire. The section of the Pentagon hit consists mainly of newly renovated, unoccupied offices. All 64 people on board are killed, as are 125 Pentagon personnel.

10:10: Part of the west side of the Pentagon collapses.

WTC 2 collapses

09:58:59: The South Tower of the World Trade Center collapses, 56 minutes after the impact of Flight 175. Its destruction is viewed and heard by a vast television and radio audience. As the roar of the collapse goes silent, tremendous grey-white clouds of pulverised concrete and gypsum rush through the streets. Most observers think a new explosion or impact has produced smoke and debris that now obscures the South Tower, but once the wind clears the smoke, it becomes clear that the building is no longer there.

09:59: As the South Tower collapses, Father Mychal Judge, Franciscan chaplain to the FDNY, is struck by falling debris on the lobby level of the North Tower. He dies of blunt force trauma to the head.^[17] As Fr Judge's body is the first recovered and certified by the medical examiner's office, he will be designated "Victim 0001" of the September 11 attacks.

Flight 93 crashes

10:03:11: United Airlines Flight 93 is crashed by its hijackers and passengers due to fighting in the cockpit 80 miles southeast of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.^[18] Later reports indicate that passengers had learned about the World Trade Center and Pentagon crashes on cell phones and at least three were planning on resisting the hijackers; the resistance was confirmed by Flight 93's cockpit voice recording, on which the hijackers are heard making their decision to down the plane before the passengers succeed in breaching the cockpit door. The 9/11 Commission believed that Flight 93's target was either the United States Capitol building or the White House in Washington, D.C.^[19]

WTC 1 collapses

10:28:22:The North Tower of the World Trade Center collapses. Due to the destruction of the gypsum-encased stairwells on the impact floors (most skyscraper stairwells are encased in reinforced concrete), no one who was above the impact zone in the North Tower escapes the collapse. The Marriott Hotel, located at the base of the two towers, is also destroyed. The second collapse is also viewed live on television and heard on radio. The North Tower collapses 1 hour, 42 minutes after the impact of Flight 11—the building had burned during the whole duration of the attacks.

WTC 7 collapses

7 World Trade Center burns after the collapse of the North Tower. New York City's 1010 WINS reports the collapse live as it happens, broadcasting a live phone call with a witness. On NBC News, Katie Couric says:

"The South Tower of the World Trade Center has just collapsed..."

9/11 for President Bush

08:55: President George W. Bush arrives at Emma E. Booker Elementary School in Sarasota, Florida, as part of a scheduled visit to promote education when White House Chief of Staff Andrew Card, who is with Bush, informs him that a small twin-engine plane has crashed into the World Trade Center. Before entering the classroom, the President speaks to National Security Advisor Condoleezza Rice, who is at the White House. She first tells him it was a twin-engine aircraft — and then a commercial aircraft — that had struck the World Trade Center, adding “that’s all we know right now, Mr. President.”^[20] 09:03: President Bush enters a classroom as part of his school visit.

09:05: After brief introductions to the Booker elementary students, President Bush is about to begin reading The Pet Goat with the students when Chief of Staff Andrew Card interrupts to whisper to the president:

"A second plane has hit the second tower. America is under attack."^[21]
Bush stated later that he decided to continue the lesson rather than alarm the students.

09:14: President Bush returns to a holding room commandeered by the US Secret Service shortly before 9:15. The holding room contains a telephone, a television showing the news coverage, and several senior staff members. The president speaks to Vice President Dick Cheney, Condoleezza Rice, New York Governor George Pataki, and FBI Director Robert Mueller, and prepares brief remarks.^[22]

09:21: All bridges and tunnels into Manhattan closed.

09:25: A video teleconference begins to be set up in the White House Situation Room, led by Richard A. Clarke, a special assistant to the president, that eventually includes the CIA, the FBI, the departments of State, Justice, Defence, and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

09:29: President Bush makes his first public statements about the attacks, in front of an audience of about 200 teachers and students at the elementary school. He states that he will be going back to Washington:

"Today, we've had a national tragedy, Two airplanes... have crashed... into the World Trade Center... in an apparent terrorist attack on our country," and leads a moment of silence.^[23]

09:35: The President's motorcade departs from the elementary school, bound for Sarasota-Bradenton International Airport and Air Force One.

09:43: The White House and the Capitol are evacuated and closed.

09:57: President Bush leaves Sarasota, Florida, on Air Force One. The plane reaches cruising altitude and circles for approximately 40 minutes while the destination of the plane is discussed.

10:20: President Bush, aboard Air Force One, tells Vice President Cheney that he has authorised a shutdown of aircraft if necessary.^[24]

23:30: Before sleeping, President Bush enters into his journal:

"The Pearl Harbor of the 21st century took place today..We think it's Osama bin Laden."^[25]

Epilogue

Robert Mueller, the former special counsel who led the Russia

investigation during President Trump's first term, is one deep state actor linking the 1988 Lockerbie bombing to 9/11 in 2001. Mueller was assistant attorney general in the United States on 14 November 1991 when indictments were issued for the two Libyans, Abdelbaset al-Megrahi and Lamin Khalifah Fhimah, who were alleged to have caused Pan Am Flight 103 to crash.^[26] And Mueller was appointed Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation one week before 9-11, a job he kept until 4 September 2013.

On 31 August 2025, the New York Times reported that 81-year-old Robert Mueller had been diagnosed with Parkinson's Disease and has difficulty speaking. As a result, a congressional committee has withdrawn a request for Mueller to give testimony this week in its inquiry into the government's handling of the Jeffrey Epstein investigations.^[27]

Short of a death-bed admission by Mueller, to prove that Suppressed Lockerbie evidence ignited 9-11 attacks could be difficult, but by no means impossible.^[28]

Other deep state cognoscenti

Apart from Mueller, there must be many other deep state cognoscenti who could help with the proof. Here are fifteen, ten of whom are still alive:

1. Robert Baer
2. William Barr
3. Pik Botha
4. George H. W. Bush
5. Vincent Cannistraro
6. Sir Richard Dearlove
7. Lord Peter Fraser
8. Efraim Halevy
9. Benjamin Netanyahu
10. Colin Powell
11. Buck Revell
12. Sir Malcolm Rifkind
13. Tiny Rowland
14. Jack Straw
15. George Tenet

Denouement

The fact that the Scottish Mirror of 11 September 2001 headlined "LOCKERBIE: THE LOST EVIDENCE" on its front page strongly suggests that a Scottish Zionist was involved in planning 9/11. That couldn't have been the UK/Foreign Secretary of the time Robin Cook because he had fallen out several years earlier with Israel's PM Benjamin Netanyahu.^[29] In any event, the head of MI6 Sir Richard Dearlove would have ensured that Robin Cook was kept in the dark about the unfolding 9/11 plan.

On 8 June 2001, in a government re-shuffle, Cook was replaced as Foreign Secretary by Jack Straw, who was also in Israel's bad books, therefore would not have been in the "Lockerbie vs. 9/11" loop .^[30]

Who then was that Scottish Zionist? It was none other than former Foreign Secretary and Deep Politician Sir Malcolm Rifkind who was involved in a failed 1996 plot to assassinate Muammar Gaddafi^[31] and was well connected to all the other major players at the time of 9/11: Pik Botha, George Bush Sr, Efraim Halevy, Benjamin Netanyahu, Colin Powell, Tiny Rowland, Jack Straw and George Tenet.

So there we have it, Sir Malcolm: are you going to come clean?
