

[C] THE MONEY OF SOUL AND POSSIBILITY CONTROL (2011)

The now very rare type of science fantasia. The battle strategy is based on financial terminologies, but there is nothing hard to understand.

PLUTO (2023)

Science fiction from last century, this is what I'm talking about! This is the story remake of Atom, which is why the story looks familiar but also strange.

DEVILMAN Crybaby (2018)

The first Netflix sponsored anime I've watched, that set too high a standard. SPOILER ALERT: everyone dies.

マッシュル -MASHLE- (2023)

It is not a surprise you'll find many of the elements looks familiar. Also I guess this shows the trend of JUMP comics recent years. I can also see the anime director of the second season has many good thought.

ダンジョン飯 (2024)

This is one of the few exceptions that I still find the anime interesting to watch after had viewed the manga.

真の仲間じゃないと勇者のパーティーを追い出されたので、辺境でスローライフすることにしました (2021)

"Not the real companion" was a meme, originated from a JRPG that the party members says when exile the heroine from the brave's party. It was be said the author of the novel is one of who disappointed by that game. Also, this is actually a love story.

対魔導学園35試験小隊 (2015)

Magitek themed dark fantasy, and everyone in the team are strange people, and cute girl transforms to augmented suits. It is really hard to deny.

姫様“拷問”の時間です (2024)

Hehehe, is it really that hard to resistant these foods?

治癒魔法の間違った使い方 (2024)

Has masochism become the trend again? Unfortunately no, but to me it is a joy to watch getting tortured.

魔法少女にあこがれて (2024)

You know, if the title features "magical girl", then it is definitely not normal magical girl anime.

Bartender (2006)

Yes, after almost two decades the anime got a remake. But lets talk about this special one. The adaptation from the comic has weaken the personality and story development and concentrate character backstories into individual chapters that highlights on the customers. The intro song feels really good, but the presentation of the anime it too dramatic, stage focused, and the narration is more than the performance. The use of CGI and real scene is very adventurous in my opinion. And don't missing the outro where the real life mixing of the signature cocktail of the episode. Also surprise, there are some interesting original contents or improvisation, or maybe twist and fusion there.

即死チートが最強すぎて、異世界のやつらがまるで相手にならないんですが。 (2024)

Promise me, don't use cheat on game next time. This is one of the anti-pattern thing, so you already know the deal.

新世紀 GPX サイバーフォーミュラ SIN (1998)

This is probably a perfect example of how cool science fiction anime would be back in late 90's, when almost everything was done with handing drawing.

TIGER & BUNNY (2011)

It is because of the recurrence of super hero theme reminds me of this. It is kinda fun to see commercial brands on CG animated hi-tech superhero suits.

武装少女マキャヴェリズム (2017)

Very interesting harem story based on martial art theme. Who's the true love? A lot of emphasis are on the where the accent is place when read a word. Because of health problem of the artist the comic didn't make it long, otherwise I think there is high potential in the story

My Home Hero (2023)

No, there is no hero. Although the story is a very heavy adaptation based on manga, it tells a complete crime story from the perspective of a father.

とんでもスキルで異世界放浪メシ (2023)

Ordinarily relaxing, ordinarily good. We have doggy and cute slime.

Blue Period (2021)

Find happy, be simple, and give up. I would say not everyone would feel and find exactly the same, but there are enough interesting take away.

Summer Time Render (2022)

A balance between suspension, horror, combat, literature, and island mythology. 顔芸 is part of the story and you must not taste it. In my opinion the ending is not the perfect happy story, but I'm open to it.

悪役令嬢なのでラスボスを飼ってみました (2022)

Spicy sweetly leijou, one of a kind.

Guilty Gear Strive (2021)

Strictly speaking this is the in-game exclusive 3D animated cut scene but they really nailed it to have the great vibe of anime. They have created lots of depth on every characters, even the bad guy (pun intended). The story has reasonable setup and development, and I'm almost impressed this is a rare good ending story.

GRISAIA: PHANTOM TRIGGER (2019)

Only 2 episodes? Game promo? Not a problem at all since it shows the charming point of everyone, I mean, the point everyone is normal people of the school while they are also special agents.

Sonny Boy (2021)

Humm I guess it gets too blur and not easy to understand. The most motivation to drive me watch it through are the cats. The plot is most close to pure fantasy to me.

Wave, Listen to me! (2020)

The voice acting is the most hilarious part of it. Unfortunately I do not have a good voice line, but I still want to be radio DJ.

陰の実力者になりたくて！ (2022)

Might be too of a chaos. The English pronunciation is quite sexy in my opinion.

戦隊大失格 (2024)

Another retrospect attempt this year. The character setting in on the interesting side.

変人のサラダボウル (2024)

On some perspective this gets really realistic... But this is really local touristic promotion anime right?

推しの子 (2023)

The topic is controversy but the manga managed it well and the animation is a elevation by adding emotion through voice acting. Idols are made up from a perfect lie, in the hope that it will become truth.

勇者が死んだ! 村人の俺が掘った落とし穴に勇者が落ちた結果。 (2023)

It was a good "just for fun" type story. You don't have to be a hero to become a hero.

Levius (2019)

Different from the original comic which is more or less like magic the anime adaptation is more of a focus on the steam punk setting.

回復術士のやり直し (2021)

Also know as the Brave with a glowing stick...

盾の勇者の成り上がり (2019)

What if you are the most useless member in the party, and it turns out you are actually not the most useless.

Strawberry Panic! (2006)

Here it is the most wonderful, most unrestrained, most selfish love, and the pursuer of it. The specific character design of heroine has a vibe of the doll from Bloodborne. The use of piano and organ composition shows the simplicity on the numbers of instruments used, never comparable to complexity of any later anime, can still get an adequate hit on the spot.

The World God Only Knows (2010)

There is a lot of detail about how the animators paid much attention to its presentation. Even though the story is mostly relevant to galgame culture, there are tons of references to retro gaming, references to other anime and popular culture, each heroine has music composed specifically for their characteristics, bold usage of transition scenes that perfectly renders the character emotion, and enough depth on meta level storytelling from the writing of scripts.

謎の彼女X (2012)

Scissor? Sun Burn? Drip play? Almost sounds like hentai but absolutely normal. I really like the deep voice line of Urabe, which I think is like ordinary girl which is very unique among the TV anime heroines.

Robotics;Notes (2012)

A light weight science fiction themed robot anime. Even though, it contains all the essence of robot animes.

俺は全てを【パライ】する (2024)

There is something I like about it, which is the idea of a combination of weak skills. However the execution is somewhat meh.

NieR:Automata Ver1.1a (2024)

As a fan of NieR: Replicant I find this also very enjoyable.

Detroit Metal City (2008)

Oh this crazy shit! Aka, how to compose metal song. The core of this comedy is eventually a tragic young men who can only be accepted through his inner ultimately mad personality. The recreated music is faithful and really good, btw.

Double Decker! (2018)

Spiritual continuation of Tiger & Bunny A fine production and you can immediately tell who did the character design.

デカダンス (2020)

Very compact but well outlined story. I would categorize this as Mecha even though it is probably not and only vaguely science fiction.

機動戦士ガンダム 水星の魔女 (2022)

Probably not everyone went for Sesbian Lex. I think the story is still very solid and consistent in quality as GUNDAM series I've watched. After years I can still resist the charm of GUNDAM anime. I think the idea it convey is Human desire the power to take revenge, even when the cost is their own life. Some of the concept and MS design is awfully similar to Armored Core 6 and cannot stop make me laugh.
